

Charter Schools in Queens

2022
2023

There are 27 charter schools operating in Queens, serving nearly 15,000 students—currently 5% of all public school students in Queens attend a charter school. Queens charter schools serve a greater percentage of Black students than their district counterparts. Queens charter students are achieving at significantly higher rates than the borough's district students.

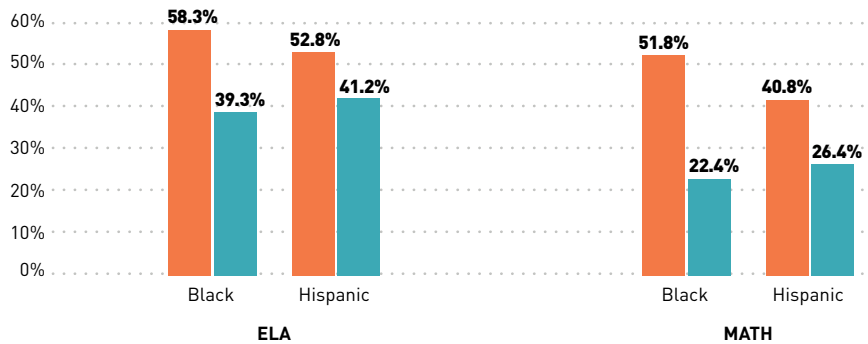

1 in 20

public school students in Queens attends a charter school

Black and Hispanic students at Queens charter schools achieve higher rates of proficiency by significant margins in both ELA and math.

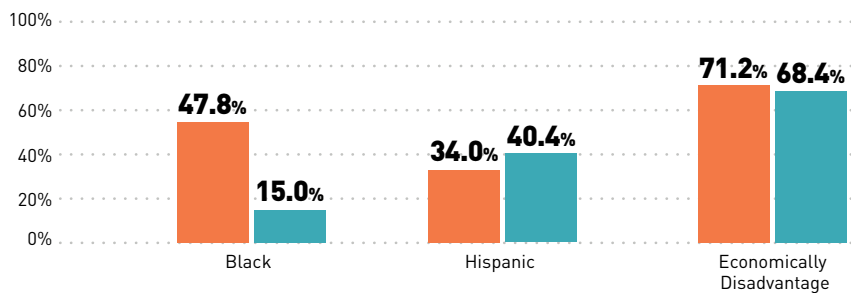

Charter DOE

Source: NYSED and NYC DOE Publicly Reported Assessment Data, 2021-22.

Queens charter schools serve 3 times the percentage of Black students than their district counterparts.

Charter DOE

Source: NYSED and NYC DOE Enrollment/Demographics Data, 2021-22.

44%

of Queens charter schools have been serving their communities for more than 10 years

33% of Queens Charter School Students Pay Rent

There are nearly 5,000 Queens charter students who don't have access to facilities funding. These students' per-pupil funding has to be diverted from the classroom to pay for the buildings in which they are being educated. Students in these underfunded charter schools receive almost $5,000 less per-pupil than district students.